Test Your Tire Safety Knowledge

Do you know the correct PSI for your vehicle's tires? Take a quick quiz to help you determine how much you know about tire maintenance and safety.

The new National Highway Safety Traffic Administration "What's Your PSI?" campaign is designed to challenge consumers to learn the correct tire pressure (pounds per square inch or PSI) for their vehicle's tires, help them to maintain proper pressure — and ultimately help everyone avoid tire failure and crashes.

In addition to making road travel safer, inflating tires to the correct PSI has other benefits as well. Motorists who "know their PSI" and maintain it can help to optimize fuel economy and tire life, saving dollars and protecting our environment in the process.

FLORIDA TRUCKING ASSOCIATION SAFETY MANAGEMENT COUNCIL

The Florida Association of Safety Councils (FASC) are proud members of the Florida Trucking Association (FTA) and the Safety Management Council (SMC). We are working together to provide safety education and training to trucking companies throughout the State of Florida. Our objective is to make Florida's roadways the safest in the nation for passenger cars and trucks as they share our state's roads, highways and turnpikes.

Florida Trucking Association's Safety Management Council is made up of safety professionals from its member companies. Their primary goal is simple - make trucking in Florida as safe as possible. With this simple goal in mind the SMC operates year round. With wide ranging programs and public relation campaigns, the SMC has increased both public and industry awareness of the importance of Trucking safety in Florida. Florida Professional Truck Driving Championships, Driver of the Year, No-Zone (Share the Road), and Joint Florida/Georgia Voluntary Roadside Inspections are but a few of the many programs initiated and supported by the FTA's safety professionals. The SMC works closely with the various regulatory agencies in Florida and nationwide, and has been recognized by the Federal Highway Administration for its efforts to increase safety levels in Florida.

Ensuring the practice of safe driving is in the broad public interest and can be achieved through a partnership between the Safety Management Council and the local community.
